Present, in the Europe of the Future

Present, in the Europe of the Future has been a creative space for debate, open to all, but especially for those involved with artistic practice and authorship. Present, in the Europe of the Future was part of EUbyLakes project, organised as an Open University for co-creation, share of views, development of ideas and mutual learning over six disciplines. First sessions were from May 9th to May 30th on-line.

The upcoming Culture KIRC Fest is organised according to the same participative, creative and imaginative model, open to all!

Present, in the Europe of the Future aligns with the wider two years debate about the Future of Europe and to be inaugurated in the Day of Europe of 2021.
